

MALTE WANDEL: RIO

Exhibition: June 13 – August 2, 2014

Opening hours: Thursday / Friday 4pm – 7pm

Saturday 11am – 4 pm and by appointment

Brazil, the Brazil that I knew, where I wandered with you, lives in my imagination.

Bob Russell, Brazil (Aquarela do Brasil)

Untitled (Pão de Açúcar), 2013
120 x 100cm, framed pigment print on
Photo Rag Baryta paper, edition of 5

Nicole Gnesa's exhibition showcases the recent work of young Munich photographer Malte Wandel taken in Rio de Janeiro.

The early morning light in the deserted streets reveals the charm of one of the largest cities in South America. With considerable subtlety, Malte Wandel looks around the corner, photographically speaking, and instead of taking us to the usual tourist highlights such as the Sugarloaf, he shows us seemingly insignificant details that, upon closer scrutiny, turn out to divulge the unique intrinsic beauty that is Brazil.

In addition to the photographs, a small edition of 100 postcard-size prints are available.

For further information please go to:
www.nicolegnesa.de.

We look forward to seeing you!

Untitled (Rua Professor Gastão Bahiana), 2013, 50 x 60cm framed pigment print on Photo Rag Baryta paper, edition of 20